

Oxford University Russian Society
presents

Russian Musical Evening

featuring Princesses Galitzines, and Dmitriy Akatov

Wednesday, November 4th, at 7:00pm in the Holywell Music Room

Sophie Galitzine, soprano - Trained by Simone Blanc, head of the singing department at the Paris Opera House, she graduated at the Sorbonne, in theatrical studies. Sophie has appeared in many opera productions, notably in Mozart's « Entführung aus dem Sérail » in the role of Constance.

Catherine Galitzine, soprano - About ten years ago, together with Nicole Rivière-Lapierre, her accompanist, Catherine began singing in public places, old people's homes, private salons, schools and even in prisons. In 2006, ending her career as a journalist, Catherine decided to devote her time to the Galitzine Sisters act.

Nicole Rivière-Lapierre, pianist accompaniste - Award winner of the National Superior Conservatory of Paris. First Prize at the Marguerite Long and Jean Doge piano Contest. First Medal for chamber music at the Pierre Pasquier Contest.

Dmitriy Akatov started to play the piano when he was 5. He has performed in Russia, Germany and England, where has won numerous prizes as well as a soloist with Merton College in Oxford. Previously performed for OURS in 2007.

The Galitzine sisters are going to perform a variety of European and Russian songs Dmitriy Akatov is going to perform 'Pictures at an exhibition' by Mussorgsky.

Ticket price 5 pounds

To reserve e-mail info@russianoxford.org, or get last ones at the door.